RULES

All professional and amateur photographers can take part in the contest regardless of their nationality.

The contest is made up of six sections:

1 – THEMES

A – FREE, MONOCHROME SERIES (series or collection of between 5 and 7 photographs)

B – FREE, COLOUR SERIES (series or collection of between 5 and 7 photographs)

C – Portrait (monochrome or colour)

D – Conceptual Photography (monochrome or colour)

E – Smiles (colour)

F – Nature (colour)

In sections A and B it is essential to establish the order in which they must be exhibited to the jury, numbering them.

A maximum of 4 photographs may be submitted in themes C, D, E and F. The technique is completely free. The same photograph may not be submitted in each theme, nor photographs submitted in previous editions.

For category D - Conceptual photography, conceptual photography is defined as photography in which the image is constructed on the basis of what the photographer wants to communicate. The author conceives photography as art, trying to arouse reactions, either of acceptance or rejection, but never of indifference to what is seen.

In category F - Nature, no photographs of animals in captivity, trained or where actions have been carried out to induce their behaviour will be accepted. Photographs of domestic or farm animals are also not accepted. The photographs must have been taken without causing suffering, disturbing the living beings in their natural habitat or interfering with their behaviour. The jury will disqualify photographs where these rules are in doubt.

F.I.A.P. DEFINITION OF THE BLACK AND WHITE (MONOCHROME) PHOTOGRAPHY

A black and white image, going from light grey (white) to very dark grey (black), is a monochrome image with different shades of grey. A black and white image toned entirely in a single colour shall be considered to be a monochrome image, which can be entered into the black and white category; this work might be reproduced in black and white in the catalogue of a photographic Salon that is under FIAP Patronage. On the other hand, a black and white image modified by a partial toning or by the addition of one colour, becomes a colour image

(polychrome), which must be entered in the colour category; this work must be reproduced in colour in the catalogue of a photographic Salon that is under FIAP Patronage.

Only digital files shall be accepted.

The images shall be submitted in JPG format, the maximum size shall be 3000px horizontally and no more than 2000px vertically, with a resolution of 300 ppi and no more than 2 MB. The sRGB colour space is recommended.

The authors of the winning photographs must send the organization the corresponding files containing their work using an image resolution of 300 ppi and side greater than 60cm within ten days after the results are publicised for the production of the subsequent TRAVELLING exhibition and they shall be kept by the organization for its photographic collection. It shall be entitled to reproduce them freely for (catalogues, posters, the press, articles, etc.), non-profit purposes, and it shall always quote the name of the photographer.

Only those participants who have previously submitted these files in due time and form will be eligible for the prizes. Otherwise, the prize will be passed on to the next participant.

Participants shall certify the authorship of their work and they shall be held completely responsible for the non-existence of third-party rights and for any image right claims made for the work that is entered in the contest.

In any section, images made using artificial intelligence will not be accepted and may be disqualified by the jury, even after the jury's decision.

The works of authors who do not meet all the conditions of participation and/or have not paid the registration fees will not be evaluated by the Jury. Photographers who do not comply with all the contest rules and/or who do not pay the entry fees shall not be entitled to have their work evaluated by the Jury.
